Faith Between the Dots

When God's Will Isn't Clear

Yet!

Part 1 ©2010 GCM The Will of God

Life is full of decisions—some we celebrate, others we wish we could erase. Most of us have pages in our story we'd rather keep hidden, and at some point, we all wonder: How do I know what God wants me to do? With so much noise and so many opinions, it can feel impossible to hear His voice clearly. But what if the problem isn't that God's not speaking, but that we're not ready to listen? Learning to recognize His voice might begin with something simpler—and more challenging—than we think.
